What is Ednorth?

Ednorth is a programme that aims to inspire change in all classrooms across the North East by promoting an educational culture led by informed debate, research, collaboration and excellence.

Our Aims Are:

Implement

a long-term shift in the education culture in the North East to one led by informed debate, research, collaboration and excellence.

regional and national policy regarding evidence-based education.

Create

a nationally recognised 'Centre of Excellence' for educational thinking

You can get involved with Ednorth through...

Ednorth Advocates

We are building a network of 'Ednorth Advocates' across the North East to help drive this agenda forward. Practitioners at all levels of teaching - from NQT to SLT - and from all areas of the region, can volunteer to become an Ednorth Advocate and lead implementing change within their schools and local area.

Teachmeets

Across the North East there are thousands of exceptional teachers plying their trade, producing fabulous resources and achieving great success. The Ednorth TeachMeets are a platform for teachers across the region to meet, share, discuss and engage with the latest pedagogical thinking, resources and research.
