The Importance of Adapting to Context

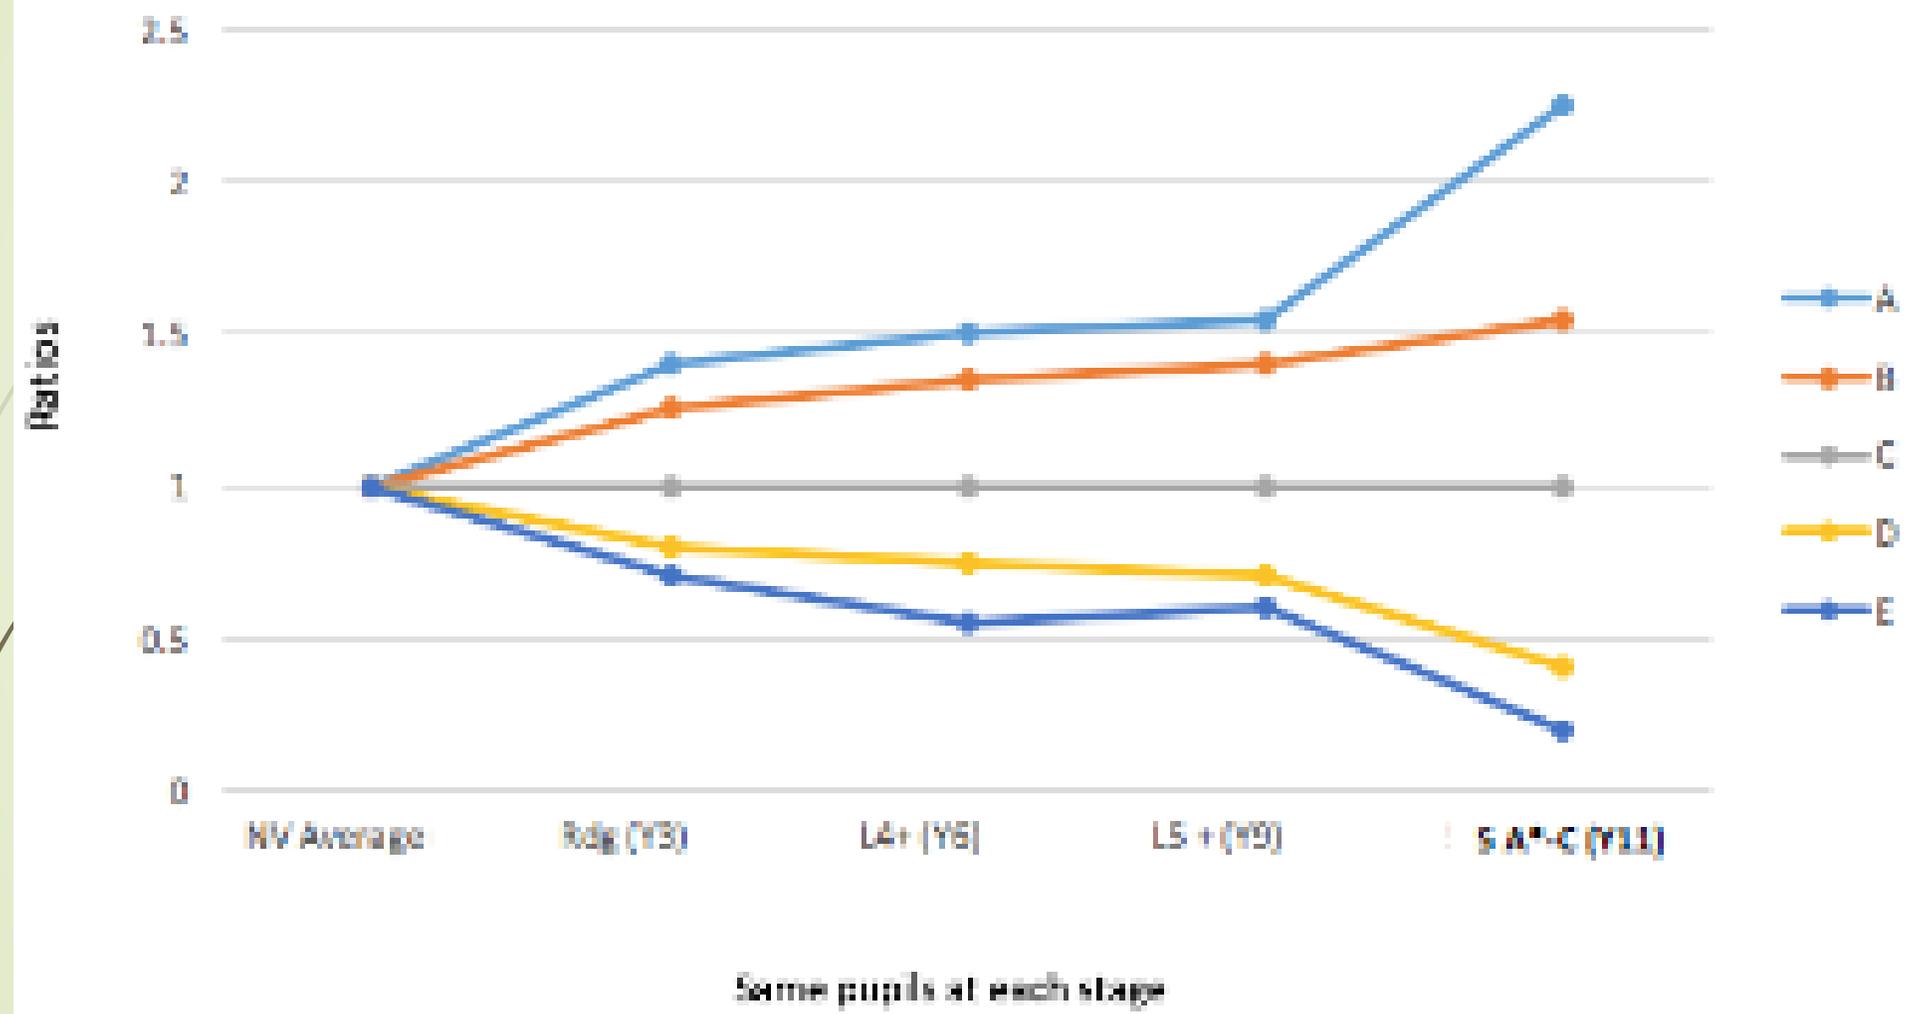

- ▶ Context is not an excuse; it's a lived reality for too many pupils and teachers
- ▶ Despite their context, many, many schools are ensuring that pupils make progress and achieve outcomes
- ▶ A challenging context means many more barriers to progress...therefore, schools need to adapt to those barriers, so they can be overcome
- ▶ It also means that effective pedagogy is not simply transferable; it needs to take into account the contextual features of the pupils, so they can be systematically removed...personalisation

Education Change in the English System – so much change, so little impact!

- 1960 / 70s – reaction against the rigidity of educational provision – teacher initiated programmes
- 1980s - National Curriculum, TGAT and Ofsted
- 1990s - National Strategies
- 2000s - 'structural changes'
- 2010s - new National Curriculum and accountability measures
- 2020s – new Ofsted Framework

THE TAIL

How England's schools fail one child in five –
and what can be done

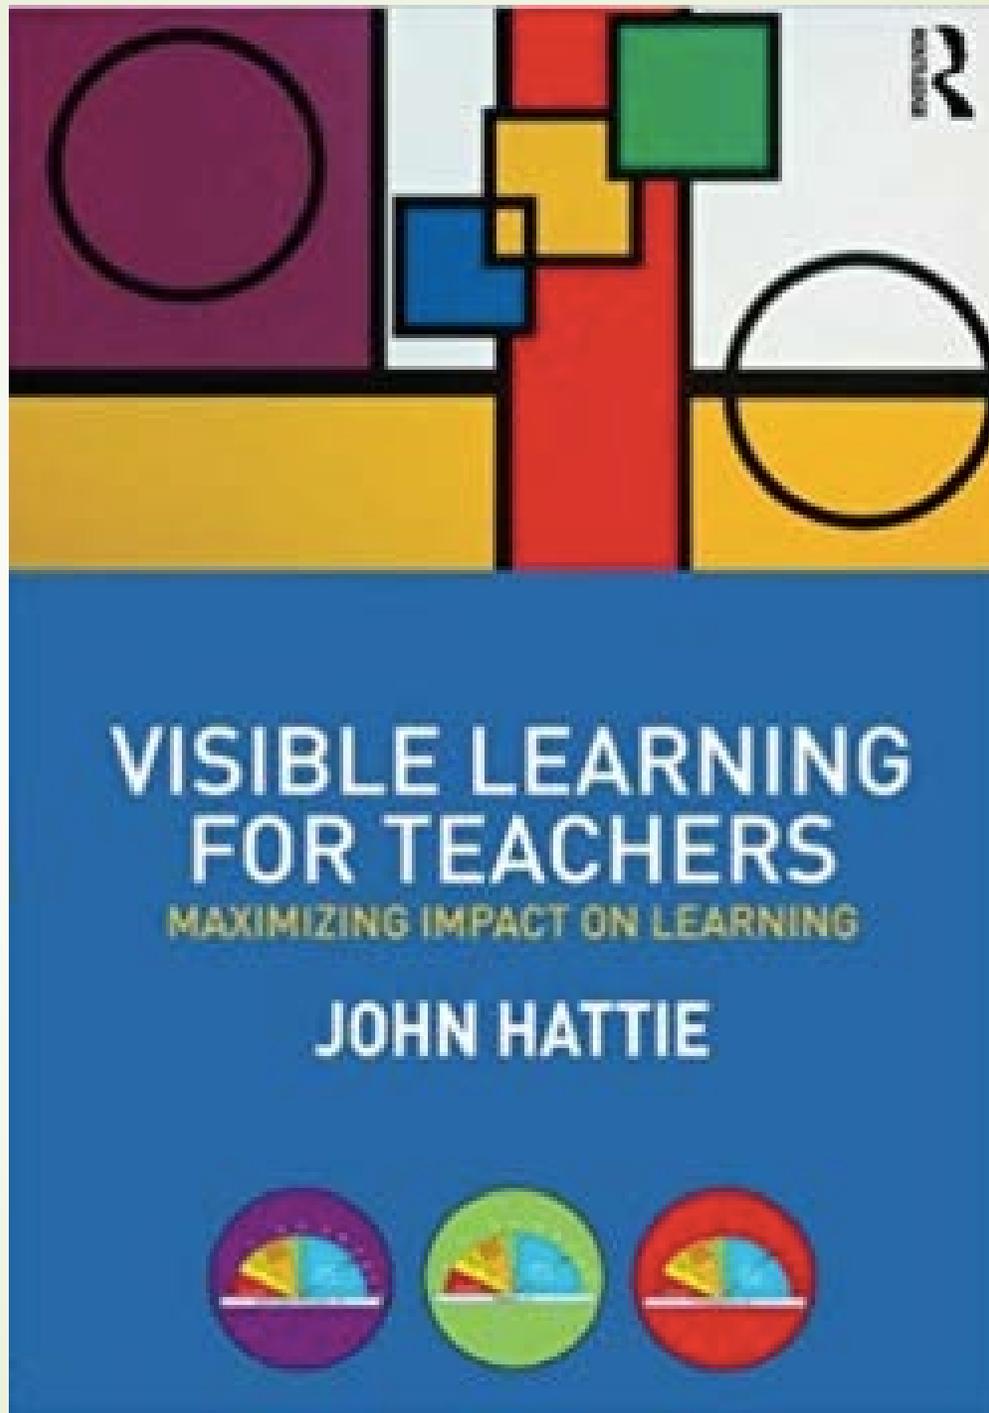

Edited by Paul Marshall

The Tail

- ▶ According to the Education Policy Institute, 21 countries have less of a gap between the best and worst primary maths results, exposing what it calls “a long tail of underperformance” in which pupils are left behind before they reach secondary school.
 - ▶ Jess Staufenburg, EPI 2017

Evidence-based practice

Hattie: what works for reading?

- Accelerated reading
- Reciprocal reading
- Problem solving techniques

High Accountability – High Autonomy

- ▶ Dean Fink – Trusting teachers
- ▶ Re-discovering the professional voice
- ▶ Fullan - Call to arms
- ▶ LEAP / NSW Secondary Principals Association – building the 'firewall'

Putting it all together...

- The Tail
 - The Context
 - The lack of political ideas / will
 - Professional autonomy / high accountability
 - Hattie
- We end up with ...action research. Teacher professionals researching what works for their pupils, in their context...teachers become the experts

The Professional Learning Network at RTMAT

- The Problem of Transferability and the basic premises – action research
- Coaching
- The Virtual Learning Platform
- The power of Vlogging
- The CPD cycle – personalising / record / model-co-teach-coaching / feedback-reflection-evaluation

The PLN Network and the 6 Threads

- ▶ Extended writing
- ▶ Baseline data
- ▶ Vocabulary building and specialist language
- ▶ Active reading
- ▶ Key Stage 4 English
- ▶ Community Engagement

School-to-school

Progress so far...

- The Vlogs
 - Virtual Learning Network – Frog
 - Thread Leaders
 - Coaching
 - Learning visits
 - Video conferencing
 - Built into monitoring, evaluation and performance management

What's next?

- ▶ Continue to promote reflective practitioners
 - ▶ Promote a cycle for a professional learning community
 - ▶ Build independence
 - ▶ Sustainability
 - ▶ Transferability
