What is oracy, why does it matter and how do you develop it?

Do now

Write about something that interests you.

What is oracy?

oracy

/ˈɔːrəsi/

noun BRITISH

the ability to express oneself fluently and grammatically in speech.
"infant teachers will be urged to concentrate on reading, writing, oracy and numeracy"

‘Though the terms ‘speaking and listening’ and ‘communication skills’ indicate objectives of indisputable educational significance, they have become devalued by casual use and should be replaced by terms that signal the emphatic step change in thinking and practice that is needed. ‘Oracy’ is a neologism which some find unappealing; ‘spoken language’ fits the bill reasonably well, though it doesn’t have the connotation of acquired skill that, by analogy with literacy, ‘oracy’ possesses.’

Alexander, 2012

“For every child to find their voice, metaphorically and literally.”
Peter Hyman - Executive Head Teacher, School 21

Why is oracy important?

Why is oracy important?

- Talk is inextricably linked to children's development: we need language to think.
- Yet, children's pre-school language experience varies considerably with their social background

Language difficulties are a defining factor in disadvantage. By the age of five, 75% OF CHILDREN WHO EXPERIENCED POVERTY persistently throughout the early years are below the average in language development, COMPARED TO 35% WHO NEVER EXPERIENCED POVERTY<sup>35</sup>.

The Communication Trust (2017)

Low-income children lag behind their middle-income counterparts at school entry by nearly one year in vocabulary, and by smaller but still substantial amounts in other types of cognitive development Waldfoegel and Washbrook (2010).

Children from low income backgrounds have heard on average 30 million fewer words than their wealthier peers by the age of three.
Hart and Risely (2003)

Why is oracy important in school?

- For lots of children, school should be their second chance to acquire communication skills.
- And yet...

The amount and quality of the dialogue children experience at home is one of the best predictors of their eventual academic attainment.
Hart & Risley (1995).

On average, teachers do 90% of the talking with individual students saying approximately four words per lesson.
Page (2005)

'[There is] a clear 'social gradient' for language, with children from the most disadvantaged groups having lower language skills than those in the least disadvantaged groups.... If we look at the longer-term impact of language delay, all studies appear to tell the same story – namely, that those from the most disadvantaged backgrounds are the least likely to catch up'

Law et al (2013)

Provide opportunities for structured talk

Talk matters: both in its own right and because of its impact on other aspects of learning.

High quality talk is typically well-structured and guided by teachers.

Accountable talk is a useful framework to ensure talk is high quality, and emphasises how talk can be subject specific.

Teachers can support students by modelling high quality talk, for example including key vocabulary and metacognitive reflection.

Silent Summariser

- Discussion is a waste of time with a badly behaved class.
- Using talk in lessons amplifies the voices of the loudest at the expense of quieter students' learning.

A diagram illustrating the Silent Summariser process. It features three teal-colored human icons labeled A, B, and C. A speech bubble from icon A points to the text 'I agree/disagree because ...'. A speech bubble from icon B points to the text 'Building on that, I think ... because ... I disagree with you because...'. A speech bubble from icon C points to the text 'Summariser: The main points you raised were... It sounds like you both agree on ...'.

I agree/disagree because ...

Summariser:
The main points you raised were...
It sounds like you both agree on ...

Building on that, I think ... because ...
I disagree with you because...

Exploratory talk

‘exploratory talk which is typical of the early stages of approaching new ideas [...] Exploratory talk is hesitant and incomplete because it enables the speaker to try out ideas, to hear how they sound, to see what others make of them, to arrange information and ideas into different patterns.’

Presentational talk

‘The difference between the two functions of talk is that in presentational talk the speaker’s attention is primarily focused on adjusting the language, content and manner to the needs of an audience, and in exploratory talk the speaker is more concerned with sorting out his or her own thoughts.’

Barnes, 1992

Groupings

Nest

Students stand apart and whisper their ideas to themselves

Circle (of 6 to 12 students)

A group of six students face each other in a circle. Pupils step inside the circle individually and speak to the group, considering their audience, maintaining good eye contact and using appropriate body language.

Pairs

Two students talking together

Onion

Students form an inner and outer circle. Up to six pupils stand back-to-back in the inner circle, with each facing a partner on the outer circle.

Trios

Three students talking with each other. Two students have a discussion while the third observes then summarises and critiques

Traverse

Pupils stand in two parallel lines opposite a speaking partner.

Coaching Onion

This is a useful tool for switching discussion partners as pupils on the inner circle can rotate to face someone new. It also allows students to contribute ideas to a larger group without worrying about speaking to them all at once.

Talking Roles

Instigator

The person who starts the discussion

Will say:

- "I would like to start by saying..."
- "I think the first thing we should consider is..."
- "To begin with let's talk about..."

Builder

Develops, adds to or runs with an idea

Will say:

- "I agree and I'd like to add..."
- "Linking to your point..."
- "Building on that idea..."

Challenger

Disagrees with or presents an alternative argument

Will say:

- "That's true, but have you considered..."
- "You mentioned X but what about..."
- "I hear what you're saying, but..."

Clarifier

Makes things clearer and simplifies ideas by asking questions

Will say:

- "What do you mean when you say..."
- "Could you tell me more about..."
- "Does that mean that..."

Prober

Digs deeper into the argument, asks for evidence or justification of ideas

Will say:

- "What evidence do you have to support that?"
- "How does that support your argument?"
- "How did you come to that conclusion?"

Summariser

Presents reflections on the discussion. May offer a conclusion or balanced assessment of the main points

Will say:

- "Overall, the main points covered were..."
- "In summary..."
- "From today's discussion, it's clear that..."

GIVING PROOF OF LISTENING MEANS

LISTEN CAREFULLY

TRY TO SUMMARISE WHAT HAS BEEN SAID AND ASK QUESTIONS.

EYE CONTACT

MAKE SURE YOU ARE LOOKING AT THE SPEAKER SO THAT THEY KNOW YOU ARE LISTENING.

BODY LANGUAGE

USE YOUR BODY LANGUAGE TO SHOW THAT YOU ARE CALM AND FOCUSED.

CHOOSE YOUR PROTOCOL

THUMBS IN

TO SPEAK, PUT YOUR THUMB OUT. ONCE YOU HAVE SPOKEN, YOU CAN CHOOSE THE NEXT PERSON TO SPEAK.

PASS AND GO

GO AROUND YOUR CIRCLE, ALLOWING EACH PERSON TO SPEAK OR TO PASS.

CHAired DISCUSSION

AS A GROUP, NOMINATE ONE PERSON TO ACT AS CHAIR. THE CHAIR CHOOSES WHO SPEAKS, ENSURING EVERYONE GETS A TURN. THEY MAY ALSO BE ASKED TO SUMMARISE THE DISCUSSION AT THE END.

So why get talking in class?

1. Language is fundamental to our capacity to think and 'interthink'
2. Through language and dialogue we develop empathy and cognitive skills
3. There is not a level playing field as to who 'catches' oracy skills and therefore..
4. Schools must be places where students are taught oracy skills
5. Effective teaching and learning uses oracy:
  - Children participate better in class
  - Children learn the skills of language for life
  - Children's attainment improves – in maths, English, science
  - Children's reasoning skills improve – when working together and independently
  - Teachers gain a better understanding of their students' learning
